OVERVIEW

A. Purpose of This Document

The document, Scope and Standards of Holistic Nursing Practice, 2013, co-published by AHNA and ANA provides an explication of the specialty, Holistic Nursing. It provides a detailed discussion of the scope of the Holistic Nurses’ practice, including the Core Values, Principals, Standards, and related competencies. The Core Values provides a philosophical context for practice. They guide how we think about the Standards and Competencies. The Principals of Holistic Nursing summarize the major themes of the Philosophy. The Standards set the norms or criteria for the practice; the Competencies explicate or spell out the activities and behaviors required of the expert Holistic Nurse.

Holistic Nurses practice at four levels: Basic Non-Baccalaureate Nursing, Basic Baccalaureate in Nursing, Advanced Holistic Nursing, and APRN Advanced Practice Holistic Nursing (APRN). The AHNCC examinations are designed to assess essential knowledge and skills associated with the 16 (sixteen) Standards of Holistic Nursing Practice and related Competencies for each level of practice. Because Holistic Nurses carry out their activities and behaviors within the context of Holistic Nursing’s philosophy, the Competencies are embedded in the Holistic Nursing Core Values.

B. Structure of the Attached Materials

1. The Essentials for Basic Holistic Nursing is presented below:

   a) The first part presents competencies expected of all Holistic Nurses, organized according to the Core Values of Holistic Nursing. A Blueprint for the Basic Certification Examinations follows this listing of Essential Knowledge and Skills for the Basic Practice of Holistic Nursing.

   b) Appendix A presents the Standards and their related competencies for the Basic Holistic Nursing examinations.

1 This section is organized around the Core Values of Holistic Nursing. Some of the Core Values have several components. For example, Core Value 2 Holistic Nursing Practice addresses a) competencies related to quality of care and caring (i.e. Standard 10); competencies related to the traditional activities involved in the caring process (i.e. Standards 1-6); competencies related to the holistic nurse as a collaborator in provision of holistic care (Standard x); and competencies related to the holistic nurse as a leader in provision of holistic care. The first and last two groups of competencies are not usually included in discussions of the Caring Process. Nevertheless, they are included under
A. Core Value: Holistic Philosophy, Theories, and Ethics

1. Holistic Nurses practice within Holistic Nursing’s philosophy, theories, and ethical code by

   a) Using ANA and AHNA documents (standards, code of ethics, to guide practice (#69^2)
      i. Overview of Principles of HN as defined by AHNA Scope and Standards for Practice
         a) Listing with discussion of principles and how they are the link between philosophy and Standards
         b) Listing of Standards • Derivation of Standards
         c) Relationship of Competencies to Standards • Derivation of Competencies
      ii. Relation between AHNA and ANA

   b) Using AHNA Core Values to articulate foundations of Holistic Nursing (#70)
      i. Unity of all things.
         a) Energy and interconnectedness of all things;
         b) Consciousness;
         c) Nurse as an instrument of healing
            • Use of presence, intentionality, and unconditional acceptance
         d) Human caring, i.e. the holistic nursing process, is defined by AHNA as “The moral ideal of nursing in which the nurse brings one’s whole self into a relationship with the whole self of the person being cared for in order to protect that person’s vulnerability, preserve her or his humanity and dignity, and reinforce the meaning and experience of oneness and unity” (AHNA, 2012, p.67).
      ii. Holistic Nursing as a caring-healing relationship/partnership with others.
         a) The Professional Holistic Nurse as an individual, partner, collaborator, and leader
            i. Nurse as an instrument of healing
            ii. Nurse Self-care (as a way of attaining, maintaining own health, restoring energy, preparing to work as energy conduit)
            iii. Nurse Self-care as a precursor for creating caring-healing partnerships
            v. Client as individual, family, group, community

2 The related competency is enclosed in parenthesis. For example, this competency is #69. The Standards of Holistic Nursing and related competency location can be found in Appendix A.
