Introduction

Certification is a professional pathway to validate your nursing specialty knowledge, competence, attitudes, skills, and expertise. With today's healthcare focus on health promotion, wellness, and well-being your certification provides evidence and assures consumers, employers, and other key stakeholders that you are a leader in healthcare transformation. Continuing competency and meeting renewal requirements are required to maintain your valued credential as a Certified Holistic Nurse™ or Certified Nurse Coach™. Completing the recertification process demonstrates your continued commitment to providing excellent holistic care. It validates your on-going expertise in holistic nursing and your personal and professional growth. Certain requirements must be met for an individual to demonstrate continuing competency in their specialty area, in this case Holistic Nurse or Nurse Coaching. This handbook outlines the process and requirements for re-certification.

Certificant Responsibilities

Timeline for Recertification

Renewal of the Holistic Nurse and Nurse Coach Certifications is required every 5 years. Recertification is due on the fifth year, the last day of the month appearing on the certificate. AHNCC will notify certificants approximately 6 months prior to their expiration date. Recertification documents are due 2 months or 60 days before the certification expiration date to ensure time for processing. Certification is no longer active after the date stated on the certificate if the recertification process has not been completed. Credentials are not backdated. Inactive certificants cannot use certification credentials. Renewal applications can only be submitted six months prior to expiration date.

Recertification Options

There are four options for recertification. Choose the option that best fits your current life circumstances.

Recertification of Credentials - You meet the eligibility requirements to re-certify and do not want to have a lapse in your certification.

Inactive – You are certified in holistic nursing or nurse coaching and are temporarily unable to meet the requirements for certification but do not wish to forfeit the credential. You may only use the inactive status once in a lifetime and it is good for three years.

Retired Status – You are a certified nurse considering retirement or have recently retired and wish to use the designation of certified but do not choose to or are unable to complete the active re-certification process. This application must be completed within one year of expiration of certification. When you complete this process, you will receive the Retired Certified Holistic Nurse designation.

Reactivation of Certification – Certification has expired. You can meet all renewal requirements and pay the reactivation fee to reactivate your certification. This application must be completed within two years of expiration of certification.

Applications for the four categories are available for download on the website www.AHNCC.org listed under recertification.

Recertification Requirements

The following requirements must be met for recertification

1. Continue to be in good standing in nursing with an active, unrestricted license documented by a copy of a US RN license attached to application;
2. Actively involved in Holistic Nursing documented by completion of application;

Continuing Competency Requirements

Continuing Competency Requirements

The continuing competency criterion for renewal of your AHNCC certification is the equivalent of 100 contact hours or professional development hours in your specialty (i.e. holistic nursing or nurse coaching) and related disciplines. Contact hours must have been acquired from the date of your last certification to the date for renewal and submission of your recertification application. Continuing competency means that you have completed learning experiences that result in updating and expanding your knowledge, and skills in your specialty. Therefore, credit is given for appropriate continued education courses and alternative and equivalent activities such as publishing, presentations at conferences, and academic courses in your specialty. Specific information follows:

- a. At least 20% of contact hours must directly address holistic integrative nursing, theories, theorists or major concepts such as spirituality, intention, holistic self-care, sacred space or presence that are relevant to your practice.
- b. The remaining contact hours can be related to holistic, integrative modalities, methods of practice, and studies that facilitate self-care, growth, and transformation within a holistic context. Medical focused courses will not be accepted unless you can explain how they relate to your practice. Courses that are considered basic nursing preparation and courses for lay people are not accepted.
- c. Specific written documentation demonstrating completion must be provided if audited.

Rationale for Recertification Requirements

Recertification requirements are designed to ensure that certificants are current and in good standing with nursing, to encourage them to expand their expertise, disseminate knowledge and skills, and provide leadership in holistic nursing or nurse coaching.

Five-year requirement for recertification – While the foundation of holistic nursing remains stable, new information on strategies for providing person-centered and relationship-based care, evidence regarding effectiveness of holistic integrative interventions and coaching strategies, and holistic middle-range theories are continually evolving. Demonstration of continuing competence requires acquisition of new knowledge through self-reflection, self-development, and life-long learning.

Active, unrestricted RN license – An active and unrestricted license indicates that the registered nurse may practice in the state without stipulations and there are no known ethical or moral violations that require the attention of AHNCC. It ensures that only licensed registered nurses are certified Active involvement in holistic nursing – In addition to continuing education, practice in holistic nursing supports continuing competence and professional growth. Practicing nurses are actively applying knowledge and skills. It encourages nurses to maintain their expertise and provide leadership in holistic nursing.

Completion of one-hundred contact hours of continuing education or professional development hours– The requirement for 100 hours of continuing education or equivalent options ensures new learning and updating information on holistic nursing through a variety of experiences. In addition to completing structured education, candidates may participate in activities that support holistic nursing practice. Refer to the table of Continuing Competency Options for alternatives.

Advanced Practice and Advanced holistic nurses must submit two test items – Exam items written by practicing holistic nurses ensures that test items are relevant to current holistic nursing practice.

Signed letter of agreement with AHNCC – In signing the letter of agreement, the candidate for recertification verifies that information provided is accurate, gives AHNCC permission to review the application, and agrees to remain in compliance with the rules, standards, and policies of AHNCC.

Audit Process

Twenty per cent of the applications for recertification will be audited. As applications are received, every fifth application will be selected for review. The CEO or designate will request that the audited applicant provide documentation that the 100 contact hours of continuing education or professional development hours have been met within 30 days of receipt of notice. Written documentation will be reviewed by the CEO or designate. Written documentation may include transcripts, certificates of attendance, validation of presentation, and others. Approved required documentation is listed above in the table of Continuing Competency Options.
