
Dr. Grissel Hernandez, PhD, MPH, RN, HNB-BC, NPD-BC, SGAHN

Dr. Hernandez is the Executive Director at Stanford Health Care Center for Education and Professional Development (CEPD). She has 20 years of Nursing Professional Development experience in ANCC Magnet and the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award designated organizations.

Dr. Hernandez is an Adjunct Faculty for Watson Caring Science Institute and a founding member of Regional Caritas Consortiums in NY/NJ/PA and CA. She also coordinates the operationalization and integration plan of Watson's Caring Science theory into practice, education, leadership, and research at Stanford Health Care.

She has a BSN from the University of Pennsylvania, a Master of Public Health from UCLA, and a Ph.D. in Nursing from the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus. Her qualitative research study aimed to describe and understand the lived experience of nurse leaders practicing within Watson Caring Science framework (aka. Caritas Coaches®), creating a caring, healing environment for staff.

We hope you will join us for our next Conversation Corner that will be offered by Dr. Grissel Hernandez, PhD, MPH, RB, HNB-BC, NPD-BC, SGAHN. “Engaging Heart, Mind, and Hands: A Latina Holistic Nurse Leadership Journey Guided by Watson Unitary Caring Science.” An email message will also be sent to all AHNCC certificants inviting them to participate.

Attendees who stay for the entire hour dialogue will be able to receive a free continuing competency hour that can be used towards their AHNCC continuing competency renewal requirement. We hope you will join us in this sacred space to learn more about neurodiversity.
